

AMBIENT ANIMAL - MANIFEST

"Musical styles or genres don't matter to me. Through listening or dancing to music, sudden emotions like excitement or comfort can arise that are capable of shifting your current mood to another horizon. Eg. a beautiful Ambient track with dense atmospherical layers can function as a holistic treatment for your body and soul. My focus of interest is in the depths of musical perception. Interesting music breathes vitality and is not limited to its pure functionality. Music makes us feel in a very direct way and human beings tend to be guided (and sometimes also manipulated) by bits and pieces of musical expression which are constantly invading their hearts and minds. I will continue using all sorts of instruments/noise makers to generate and record sound fractals, reconstruct field recordings and play with my synthesizers/drum machines for the rest of my life in search of sonorous wonderland."

grounded and spiralled out of control.
the journey continues.

RADIO RAGWEED

Radio Ragweed is hosted and curated by Ambient Animal in a 4 week cycle via London and Berlin based community radio station Threads Radio. The first episode was aired Wednesday, May 16th, 2018.

The aural nature of Radio Ragweed stands for forward thinking music, which enriches both body and soul. Benedikt Guschlbauer aka Ambient Animal – the founder of viennese record label Sama Recordings – guides you through these (mostly) electronic excursions and presents his personal favourites of already established artists/labels/collectives with diverse musical backgrounds, unreleased music from friends as well as upcoming releases of promising newcomers. You can also expect regular guest mixes by some of the finest diggers around and special features e.g. about experimental african and asian music hosted by Cedrik Fermont of Syrphe Records out of Berlin. The programming of Radio Ragweed is not limited to a style or genre, a certain elevating spirit has to radiate from those waves and frequencies i want to share with my listeners.
